Letter from His Way at Work

A proposal of collaboration to Eccekenoo and the MANAVE Group (today MNV Global)

14 MARCH 2025 · TO THE SUBDEACON OF ECCEKENOO

His Way at Work, an association of consecrated companies, exists to transform workplaces by inspiring business owners to consecrate their companies and equipping them to seek eternal value, with God at the center. We carry out that mission in three ways, which we offer to MANAVE and to the business community of Costa Rica:

- Consecration of the company to the Sacred Heart of Jesus. We invite MANAVE to consecrate its company to the Sacred Heart and to encourage more companies to follow, strengthening its own Christian identity and that of others.
- Transformation of the company through a culture of care. We will bring to MANAVE our method, proven in more than 250 companies, to build an organizational culture centered on people and on universal Christian values, grounded in the principles of the Church's social doctrine.
- A business community of faith. We will invite MANAVE and the business owners of Costa Rica to join the international His Way at Work community. Together we will build a local network of companies committed to Christian values, enriching the workplace and society.

We are convinced that this collaboration will not only transform MANAVE but will also inspire other companies to follow this path towards a more human and spiritual way of running a business.

We look forward to coordinating the next steps, and we are deeply grateful for your openness to this proposal.

With appreciation and prayers,

Executive Director, His Way at Work Ibero-America.

> A recreation, in Eccekenoo's format, of the original letter in Spanish. The original is addressed by name to the subdeacon of Eccekenoo and signed by the executive director; names are published only with their consent.